

Woolly Mammoths:

- Woolly mammoths are an extinct species of mammoth related to modern-day elephants.
- They were roughly the size of modern-day African elephants.
- Mammoths didn't fully disappear until 4,000 years ago, and they are known to have co-existed with Neanderthals and early modern humans.

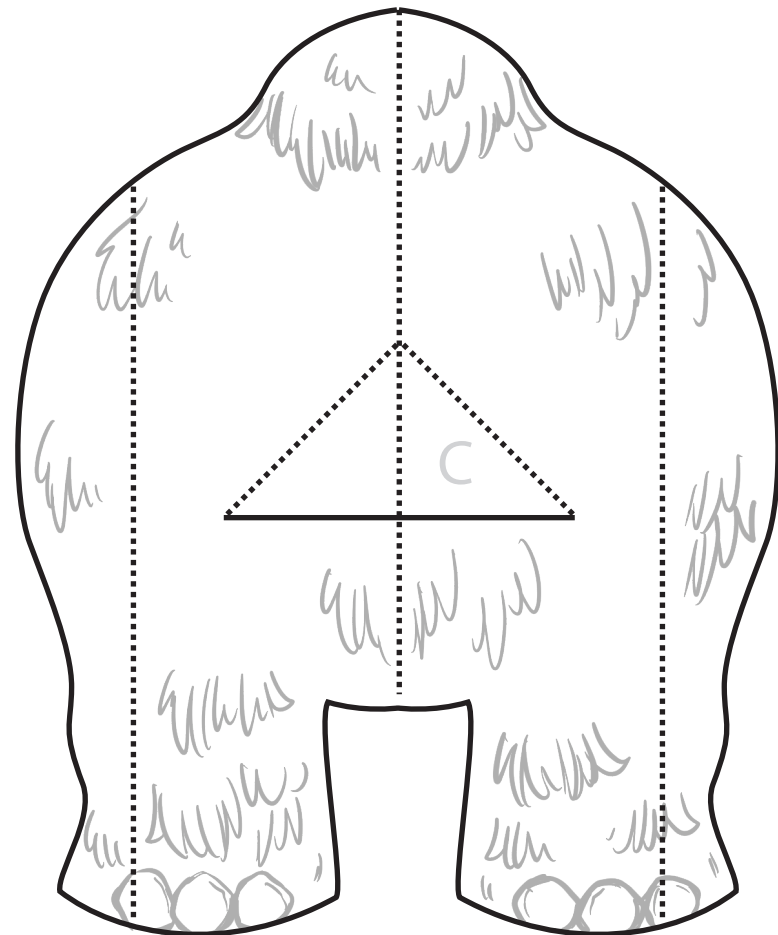

LEGEND

LEARNING UNIT: PREHISTORIC ANIMALS Woolly Mammoth (Page 1 of 2)

A →

B ←

LEARNING UNIT:
PREHISTORIC ANIMALS
Woolly Mammoth
(Page 2 of 2)

