INFINITY WATCH

LOKI

LOGAN

KING THOR

PHOENIX LOGAN

HECTOR

WARBRINGER

Logan's alive again...and the first person he ran into was everyone's favorite God of Mischief, Loki. Great. Loki's mad at Logan for misusing the Infinity Stones...which Logan has no memory of doing. Doubly great. Luckily, a future version of Logan showed up to spout some nonsense, commanding the pair to defend someone named "Hector."

Loki filled Logan in on what happened while Logan was dead—from Gamora's plan to rewrite the universe to Adam Warlock giving each Infinity Stone a soul—warning that the universe will come after the Stones again. As if to prove his point, Chitauri warlord Warbringer arrived on Earth to hunt down Hector Bautista—an escaped death row inmate with the power to freeze time.

STAN'S SOAPBOX!

Many Keepers of the Faith have demanded that we take a more definite stand on current problems such as Viet Nam, civil rights, and the increase in crime, to name a few. We've a hunch that most Marvel madmen pretty well know where we stand on such matters—and we've long believed that our first duty is to entertain, rather than editorialize. Of course, you've probably noticed that it's not too easy to keep our own convictions out of the soul-stirring sagas we toss at you—but, in our own bumbling fashion, we do try. Anyway, since it's YOU who are the true editors of Marveldom, it's time for another impassioned poll! Should we editorialize more—or less—or keep things in their present fouled-up form? We'll announce the verdict as soon as one of us learns. But, till then, in case you haven't noticed, we've got a little suggestion for you. Namely—THINK MARVEL! That's it, Believer!
